SUMMER MOMENTS

Why did the dinosaur cross the road?
Because the chicken wasn't born yet.

Parent Educator Supervisor Lisia Satini

School's out for the older children and summer is here with Pre-schoolers, eager to start Kindergarten. Looking to create lasting memories while practicing safety during this pandemic!

Squeeze the most out of your summer with FREE summer activities. Staying local, turn up your summer fun with visiting kidsoutandabout.com where you can experience fun in the sun!

Keep your eyes open for a number of summer festivals and events because you'll want to get out and eat with your community. At the Sunnyvale or New Roots Farmers Market where they offer FREE kid's lunch and free to choose food pantry, and you're invited to shop for fresh locally grown produce.

We still have time to fill up your summer checklist with the kiddos... Look out for our upcoming Group Connections!

HOME VISITATION CORNER

MEET THE TEAM

JAYNA HENDERSHOT

Parent Educator Team Lead

Jayna works part time serving Home Visitation Spanish Speaking families and enjoys biking daily. She has been working with Children's Service Society of Utah for going on 6 years and enjoys working with diverse families. With a family of her own, her wealth of experience and education is an asset to our Home Visitation team. Jayna continues to help lead the team with her willingness to step in where needed. She cares for others and continues to empower her families she serves.

LISIA SATINI

Parent Educator Supervisor

Lisia started serving Home Visitation families as a Pacific Islander Specialist and still serves Home Visitation families for going on 7 years. She has a family of her own and has found a love for canoeing during the pandemic. Lisia is highly committed to Home Visitation and believes in offering this service to all underserved communities that need the extra support. She sincerely understands the organization's goals and is loyal to this work in serving Home Visitation families. With her creativity and innovation she has added the community health work to the Home Visitation program.

CALL FOR INPUT: HOME VISITATION ADVISORY BOARD

Are you receiving Home Visits? Do you know what helps Parent Educators do their best work? Do you know what makes the Home Visits with Parent Education programs successful?

We are looking for participants to give insights on what organizations need to support and elevate the Home Visitation program.

Home Visitation is developing practices that Community Health Work need help to do their best work. This meeting is held quarterly and is about an hour long.

In Virtual sessions, participants will engage in rich discussions and share their perspectives on what work conditions ensure a sustainable CHW workforce and successful Home Visitation program.

CONNECT WITH YOUR SUPPORT SYSTEM

Parenting can be rough, one minute everything is calm and the next minute the entire house is spiraling out of control.

Tension builds and so does your frustration.

And then...you blow. You yell, you threaten, you scream –all in a desperate attempt to regain ANY bit of control over your home.

A strong support system can provide you with help during times of need. Many of your relationships can make up your support system, like your family, friends, neighbors, coworkers or faith based community members.
